TRANSLATIONS

Peso ancestral (Alfonsina Storni, Argentina)

Tú me dijiste: no lloró mi padre;
Tú me dijiste: no lloró mi abuelo;
No han llorado los hombres de mi raza,
Ni de acero.

Así diciendo te brotó una lágrima
Y me cayó en la boca... más veneno.
Yo no he bebido nunca en otro vaso
Así pequeño.

Débil mujer, pobre mujer que entiende,
Dolor de siglos conocí al beberlo:
Oh, el alma mía soportar no puede
Todo su peso.

Ancestral Burden

Once you told me my father never wept;
Once you told me his father never wept;
The men of my line have never wept;
They were made of steel.

As you were saying this you cried a tear
That dropped into my mouth...I have never drunk more of poison than I did from that little cup.

Vulnerable woman, poor and comprehending
woman,
When I tasted it I knew the pain of centuries.
Oh, my soul cannot endure
All of its burden.

(Translation: Andrew Rosing)

Bullerengue (Jorge Artel, Colombia)

Si yo fuera tambó,
mi negra,
sonara na má pa ti.
Pa ti, mi negra, pa ti.

Si maraca fuera yo,
sonara solo pa ti.
pa ti maraca y tambó,
pa ti, mi negra, pa ti.

Quisiera vorverme gaita
y soná na má pa ti.
Pa ti solita, pa ti,
pa ti, mi negra, pa ti.

Y si fuera tamborito
Currucutearía bajito,
bajito, pero bien bajito,
pa que bailaras pa mí.

Pa mí, mi negra, pa mí,
Pa mí, na má que pa mí

Apegado a mí (Gabriela Mistral, Chile)

Velloncito de mi carne,
que en mi entraña yo tejí,
velloncito friolento,
¡duérmete apegado a mí!

La perdiz duerme en el trébol
escuchándole latir:
no te turben mis alientos,
¡duérmete apegado a mí!

Close to Me

Little fleece of my flesh,
that I wove in my womb,
little shivering fleece,
sleep close to me!

The partridge sleeps in the clover hearing its heart beat.
My breathing will not wake you.
Sleep close to me!

Hierbecita temblorosa
asombrada de vivir,
no te sueltes de mi pecho:
¡duérmete apegado a mí!

Yo que todo lo he perdido
ahora tiemblo de dormir.
No resbales de mi brazo:
¡duérmete apegado a mí!

Little trembling blade of grass
astonished to be alive,
don't leave my breast.
Sleep close to me!

I who have lost everything
am now afraid to sleep.
Don't slip away from my arms.
Sleep close to me!

(Translation: Doris Dana)

Gracias a la vida (Violeta Parra, Chile)

Gracias a la vida que me ha dado tanto.
Me dio dos luceros, que cuando los abro
perfecto distingo lo negro del blanco,
y en el alto cielo su fondo estrellado
y en las multitudes al hombre que yo amo.

Gracias a la vida que me ha dado tanto.
Me ha dado el oído, que en todo su ancho
graba noche y día grillos y canarios;
martillos, turbinas, ladridos, chubascos,
y la voz tan tierna de mi bienamado.

Gracias a la vida que me ha dado tanto.
Me ha dado el sonido y el abecedario,
con él las palabras que pienso y declaro,
madre, amigo, hermano y luz alumbrando
la ruta del alma del que estoy amando.

Gracias a la vida que me ha dado tanto.
Me ha dado la marcha de mis pies cansados,
con ellos anduve ciudades y charcos,
playas y desiertos, montañas y llanos
y la casa tuya, tu calle y tu patio.

Gracias a la vida que me ha dado tanto.
Me dio el corazón que agita su marco
cuando miro el fruto del cerebro humano, cuando miro al bueno tan lejos del malo,
cuando miro el fondo de tu ojos claros.

Gracias a la vida que me ha dado tanto.
Me ha dado la risa y me ha dado el llanto,
así yo distingo dicha de quebranto,
los dos materiales que forman mi canto,
y el canto de ustedes que es el mismo canto
y el canto de todos que es mi propio canto.

Here's to Life

Thanks to life that has given me so much
It has given me two eyes, when I open them
I can tell black and white clearly apart
The star-covered depth of the lofty sky
The man I love among all the crowd.

Thanks to life that has given me so much
It has given me sound and the alphabet.
And with it the words I think and speak
Mother, friend, brother, and light that brightens
the way of the soul of the one I love.

Thanks to life that has given me so much
It has given me hearing that in all its breadth
Night and day records crickets and canaries
Hammers, turbines, barking, squalls
And the soft voice of my beloved.

Thanks to life that has given me so much
It has given me the step of my tired feet
With them I walked around cities and puddles
Beaches and deserts, mountains and plains
And your house, your street, and your courtyard.

Thanks to life that has given me so much
It has given me laughter and it has given me tears
So I can tell happiness from grief
The two things my song is made of
And the song of you all that is my own song.

Thanks to life that has given me so much!

TRANSLATIONS

I stood in darkened daydreams

stood in darkened daydreams and stared at her portrait long as that beloved face was secretly coming to life.

Around her lips there blossomed
a wondrous laughing smile, and melancholy teardrops - they glittered in her fair eyes.

Likewise my teardrops welled up and flowed down mournful cheeks
alas, I can't believe it,
that I am deprived of you!

They once loved each other

They once loved each other,
but neither would to the other confess;
they saw each other as hostile,
yet wanted to perish from love.

They finally parted and sometimes sighted the other in dreams;
they had been dead so long now
and hardly known it themselves.

Love's magic

Now Love once like a nightingale
in rosebush perched and sang;
with sweetest wonder flew the sound
along the woodland green.

And as it rang, there rose a scent
from ring of thousand buds,
and all the treetops rustled soft,
and softer blew the air;

the brooklets silenced, scarcely come by splashing from the heights, the fawns stood still as if in dream
and listened to the tone.

And bright and ever brighter flowed
the sunbeams down inside,
'round blossoms, wood and gorge it gushed
with golden red sunshine.

I walked along the path that day
and also heard that sound.
Alas! what ever since I've sung was just its echo faint.

About the UE Choral Program

The choral program at UE is one of the most distinctive choral programs in the state of Indiana. The UE University Choir has received multiple invitations to perform for the Indiana Music Education Association annual conventions and for the regional American Choral Directors Association (ACDA) conference in Chicago. In 2017, University of Evansville was the only college/university in Indiana chosen to participate in the National ACDA Collegiate Honor Choir held at the ACDA National Conference in Minneapolis, MN. Over the years, the choral program has worked with such internationally recognized artists as The King's Singers, Anonymous 4, and, upcoming in 2020, Bobby McFerrin. The University Choir's 2019 recording of world-renowned composer Dominick DiOrio's You Do Not Walk Alone can be heard on the composer's website as the model performance of his work.

The choral program at UE is made up of four choirs including the University Choir, the UE Choral Society, and the UE Women's Chorus. During certain semesters, a select number of students are drawn from the choral program to form the small chamber ensemble Kantorei. The choral program's most recently formed ensemble, the UE Choral Society is open to both UE students as well as area community members. In addition to regular concerts, UE choirs can be heard at annual campus events including Candlelight Vespers, Founders Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

All students are welcome into the UE choral program, regardless of major. Students interested in joining the choral program as well as community members interested in joining the UE Choral Society are welcome to contact Director of Choral Activities, Dennis Malfatti at dm155@evansville.edu.

WORDS TO CHRISTMAS "POP" SING-A-LONG

(Audience and all Ensembles)

Santa Claus is Comin' To Town

You better watch out
You better not cry
You better not pout
I'm telling you why
Santa Claus is coming to town
Santa Claus is coming to town
Santa Claus is coming to town.
He's making a list,
Checking it twice;
Gonna find out who's naughty or nice.
Santa Claus is coming to town
Santa Claus is coming to town
Santa Claus is coming to town.
He sees you when you're sleeping
He knows when you're awake
He knows if you've been bad or good
So be good for goodness sake.
Oh, you better watch out
You better not cry
You better not pout
I'm telling you why
Santa Claus is coming to town

Silver Bells

City sidewalks, busy sidewalks
Dressed in holiday style
In the air there's a feeling of Christmas
Children laughing, people passing
Meeting smile after smile
And on every street corner you hear
Silver bells, silver bells
It's Christmas time in the city
Ring-a-ling, Hear them ring,
Soon it will be Christmas day

Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer

Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer
Had a very shiny nose
And if you ever saw it
You would even say it glows
All of the other reindeer
Used to laugh and call him names
They never let poor Rudolph
Join in any reindeer games
Then one foggy Christmas Eve
Santa came to say
"Rudolph, with your nose so bright
Won't you guide my sleigh tonight?"
Then how the reindeer loved him
As they shouted out with glee
"Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer
You'll go down in history"

Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas

Have yourself a merry little Christmas
Let your heart be light
From now on your troubles will be out of sight
Have yourself a merry little Christmas
Make the Yuletide gay
From now on your troubles will be miles away
Here we are as in olden days
Happy golden days of yore
Faithful friends who are dear to us
Gather near to us once more
Through the years we all will be together
If the fates allow Hang a shining star upon the highest bough
So have yourself a merry little Christmas
Have yourself a merry little Christmas
So have yourself a merry little Christmas

FRIENDS OF UE
MUSIC

For decades Bobby McFerrin has broken all the rules. The 10-time Grammy winner has blurred the distinction between pop music and fine art, goofing around barefoot in the world's finest concert halls, exploring uncharted vocal territory, inspiring a whole new generation of a cappella singers and the beatbox movement. His latest album, spirityouall, is a bluesy, feel-good recording, an unexpected move from the music-industry rebel who singlehandedly redefined the role of the human voice with his a cappella hit "Don't Worry, Be Happy," his collaborations with Yo-Yo Ma, Chick Corea and the Vienna Philharmonic, his improvising choir Voicestra, and his legendary solo vocal performances.

It's been the quietest and most polite of revolutions. Bobby McFerrin was always an unlikely pop star. He created a lasting ear-worm of a #1 hit early in his career. Then he calmly went back to pursuing his own iconoclastic musical journey, improvising on national television, singing melodies without words, spontaneously inventing parts for 60,000 choral singers in a stadium in Germany, ignoring boundaries of genre, defying all expectations.

Bobby's history as an instrumentalist and bandleader is key to understanding his innovative approach to mapping harmony and rhythm (as well as melody) with his voice. "I can't sing everything at once," he says, "but I can hint at it so the audience hears even what I don't sing." All that pioneer spirit and virtuosity has opened up a great big sky full of new options for singers; so have Bobby's experiments in multi-tracking his voice (Don't Worry, Be Happy has seven separate, over-dubbed vocal tracks; Bobby's choral album VOCAbuLarieS [with Roger Treece] has thousands). But virtuosity isn't the point. "I try not to 'perform' onstage," says Bobby. "I try to sing the way I sing in my kitchen, because I just can't help myself. I want audiences to leave the theatre and sing in their own kitchens the next morning. I want to bring audiences into the incredible feeling of joy and freedom I get when I sing."

Made possible through an endowment from the late Patricia H. Snyder, trustee and longtime friend of the University of Evansville, the Patricia H. Snyder Concert and Lecture Series was created in 1997 to bring speakers or performers of national or international known to Evansville at no cost to the public. The concerts and lectures in this series span a wide range of topics, and are aimed at both the Evansville and campus communities.

Mezzo-soprano Lori Bade, Nell S. and Boyd H. McMullan Distinguished Professor of Music and associate dean for graduate studies in the College of Music and Dramatic Arts began teaching at the LSU School of Music in 1993. In 2007, Bade received the LSU Alumni Association Faculty Excellence Award for outstanding teaching and research and/or service. In addition, she has twice received the "Tiger Excellence in Teaching Award" by Louisiana State University. As a performing artist, Lori Bade brings a history of great successes from throughout the South, Southwest, Washington state and Europe. She has achieved critical acclaim for her "fine voice, well produced with even tone and vibrato..." as well as "pure vocal beauty, who has a resplendent, coppery instrument whose ripe 'Earth Mother' low register has no hint of growly chest tones." Lori Bade has performed leading roles with numerous opera companies and, as mezzo soprano soloist, sung major concert works of J.S. Bach, Beethoven, Duruflé, Handel, Haydn, Mahler, Mozart, Rutter, Tippett and Vaughan Williams.

Bade's voice students have won at the District, Regional, and National Metropolitan Opera competitions; at the National Association of Teachers of Singing competitions (state and regional levels); have held professional singing engagements and/or been placed in multiple apprentice programs including but not limited to the Merola Program with San Francisco Opera, Des Moines Metro Opera, Utah Opera, Santa Fe Opera, Sarasota Opera, Minnesota Opera, Fort Worth Opera, and Glimmerglass. Dr. Bade holds the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Vocal Performance from The University of Texas at Austin, the Master of Arts in Vocal Pedagogy from The Ohio State University, and the Bachelor of Arts in Voice and Church Music from Texas Lutheran University.

Immer leiser wird mein Schlummer

My slumber grows ever more peaceful;
and only like a thin veil now does my anxiety lie trembling upon me.
Often in my dreams I hear you calling outside my door;
no one is awake to let you in,
and I wake up and weep bitterly.

Yes, I will have to die;
another will you kiss,
when I am pale and cold.
Before the May breezes blow,
before the thrush sings in the forest:
if you wish to see me once more,
come, o come soon!

Meine Liebe ist grün

My love's as green as the lilac bush,
And my sweetheart's as fair as the sun;
The sun shines down on the lilac bush,
Fills it with delight and fragrance.
My soul has a nightingale's wings
And sways in the blossoming lilac,
And, drunk with fragrance, exults and sings
Many a love-drunk song.

Von ewiger Liebe

Dark, how dark in wood and field!
Evening has already fallen, and now the world is silent.
Nowhere is there light and nowhere is there smoke,
Yes, and even the lark is now silent as well.
Out of the village there comes a young lad,
Taking his sweetheart home,
He leads her past the willow bushes,
Talking so much and about so many things:
"If you suffer disgrace and feel dejected,
If others shame you about me,
Then let our love be sundered as swiftly,
As quickly as we were united before.
It will go with the rain, it will go with the wind,
As quickly as we were united before."

The maiden speaks, the maiden says:
"Our love will not be sundered!
Steel is strong, and iron is very strong;
Our love is even stronger.
Iron and steel can be reforged,
But our love - who could alter it?
Iron and steel can be melted down,
But our love will exist forever!"

Violon

Loving couple of misapprehended sounds
Violin and player please me.
Ah! I love these long wailings
Stretched on the string of disquiet.
To the sound of strung-up chords
At the hour when Justice is silent
The heart shaped like a strawberry
Gives itself to love like an unknown fruit.

Fleurs

Promised flowers, flowers held in your arms,
Flowers from a step's parentheses,
Who brought you these flowers in winter
Sprinkled with the sea's sand?
Sand of your kisses, flowers of faded loves
Your lovely eyes are ashes and in the hearth
A moan-beribboned heart
Burns with its sacred images.

Belle nuit, ô nuit d'amour

Beautiful night, oh night of love,
Rouse to our drunkenness,
Night softer than the day,
O beautiful night of love!
Time flees and does not return
Takes away our tenderness!
Far from this happy place,
Time flees without returning!
Burning Zephyrs,
Pour out your caresses;
Burning Zephyrs
Give us your kisses.
O beautiful night of love!

Puisqu'ici bas toute âme

As each soul here below
Someone has lent,
Its music or its glow
Or its own scent;
As all things here below
To true love give
A thorn, or else a rose,
As they do live;
As April gives the oaks
A charming sound;
Night pain in kind sleep soaks,
Our cares to drown.
As when dark waves reach land
To take their rest,
They leave upon the strand
A sweet caress;
I give thee, at this hour,
Bent over thee,
The best that's in my power,
The best in me!
I give my thoughts so true,
Though sad they be,
Like glistening drops of dew
They fall on thee.
My vows uncounted claim
My love, always.
Receive the shade or flame
Of all my days.
My wildest transports greet,
Suspensions gone,
And each caress so sweet
Of this my song.
My spirit which, afar,
Drifts on the sea,
Its only gliding star
The sight of thee.
Take, heavenly creature,
O, my beauty,
My heart - its only feature
My love for thee.

Tarantelle

In the heavens the moon rises and shines.
It turns midnight into the light of day.

"Come with me," she said to me,
"Come onto the sizzling sand
Where, wriggling, jumps and slides
The tarantella..."

Come on, dancers! Here are two of them;
A crowd on the water, a crowd around them;
The man is well-built, the girl is beautiful;
But watch out! Without thinking about it,
It is the game of love being danced,
The tarantella...

Sweet is the sound of the tambourine!
"If I were the daughter of the sea
And you a fisher," she said to me,
"Every night with glee
We would love each other while we dance
The tarantella..."

An die ferne Geliebte, Op. 98

TRANSLATIONS

I. Auf dem Hügel sitz ich spähend

I sit on the hill, gazing
Into the misty blue countryside,
Towards the distant meadows
Where, my love, I first found you.
Now I'm far away from you,
Mountain and valley intervene
Between us and our peace,
Our happiness and our pain.
Ah, you cannot see the fiery gaze
That wings its way towards you,
And my sighs are lost
In the space that comes between us.
Will nothing ever reach you again?
Will nothing be love's messenger?
I shall sing, sing songs
That speak to you of my distress!
For sounds of singing put to flight
All space and all time;
And a loving heart is reached
By what a loving heart has hallowed!

II. Wo die Berge so blau

Where the blue mountains
From the misty grey
Look out towards me,
Where the sun's glow fades,
Where the clouds scud by –
There would I be!
There, in the peaceful valley,
Pain and torment cease.
Where among the rocks
The primrose meditates in silence,
And the wind blows so softly –
There would I be!
I am driven to the musing wood
By the power of love,
Inner pain.
Ah, nothing could tempt me from here,
If I were able, my love,
To be with you eternally!

III. Leichte Segler in den Höhen

Light clouds sailing on high,
And you, narrow little brook,
If you catch sight of my love,
Greet her a thousand times.
If, clouds, you see her walking
Thoughtful in the silent valley,
Let my image loom before her
In the airy vaults of heaven.
If she be standing by the bushes
Autumn has turned fallow and bare,
Pour out to her my fate,
Pour out, you birds, my torment.
Soft west winds, waft my sighs
To her my heart has chosen –
Sighs that fade away
Like the sun's last ray.
Whisper to her my entreaties,
Let her, narrow little brook,
Truly see in your ripples
My never-ending tears!

IV. Diese Wolken in den Höhen

These clouds on high,
This cheerful flight of birds
Will see you, O gracious one.
Take me lightly winging too!
These west winds will playfully
Blow about your cheeks and breast,
Will ruffle your silken tresses. –
Would I might share that joy!
This brooklet hastens eagerly
To you from those hills.
If she's reflected in you,
Flows directly back to me!

V. Es kehret der Maien, es blühet die Au

May returns,
The meadow blooms.
The breezes blow
So gentle, so mild,
The babbling brooks flow again,
The swallow returns
To its rooftop home,
And eagerly builds
Her bridal chamber,
Where love shall dwell.
She busily brings
From every direction
Many soft scraps
For the bridal bed,
Many warm scraps for her young.
Now the pair lives
Faithfully together,
What winter parted,
May has joined,
For May can unite all who love.
May returns,
The meadow blooms.
The breezes blow
So gentle, so mild;
I alone cannot move on.
When spring unites
All lovers,
Our love alone
Knows no spring,
And tears are its only gain.

VI. Nimm sie hin den, diese Lieder

Accept, then, these songs
I sang for you, beloved;
Sing them again at evening
To the lute's sweet sound!
As the red light of evening draws
Towards the calm blue lake,
And its last rays fade
Behind those mountain heights;
And you sing what I sang
From a full heart
With no display of art,
Aware only of longing:
Then, at these songs,
The distance that parted us shall recede,
And a loving heart be reached
By what a loving heart has hallowed!

Rachel Barton Pine

A leading interpreter of the great classical masterworks, violinist Rachel Barton Pine thrills audiences with her dazzling technique, lustrous tone, and emotional honesty. With an infectious joy in music-making and a passion for connecting historical research to performance, Pine transforms audiences' experiences of classical music.

Pine's 2019-20 season includes a residency with the Singapore Symphony, as well as performances with the Royal Scottish National and Seattle Baroque Orchestras, and the Tel Aviv Soloists. In recital she will appear at Lincoln Center with Matthew Hagle, and Pine and harpsichordist Jory Vinikour will perform in concerts presented by the National Gallery in Washington D.C. and the San Francisco Early Music Society. Her November, 2019 Avie recording of the Dvořák and Khachaturian Violin Concertos with the Royal Scottish National Orchestra and conductor Teddy Abrams highlights the influence of each composer's local ethnic music.

Pine's past chart-topping albums include Mozart: Complete Violin Concerto, Sinfonia Concertante with the Academy of St Martin in the Fields, Sir Neville Marriner conducting; Bel Canto Paganini, and Elgar & Bruch Violin Concertos with the BBC Symphony, Andrew Litton conducting.

Pine has appeared as soloist with many of the world's most prestigious ensembles including the Chicago and Vienna Symphonies, Philadelphia Orchestra, Royal Philharmonic, and Camerata Salzburg.

Galvanized by the fact that young people learning classical music seldom have the opportunity to study and perform music written by Black composers, in 2018 Pine's RBP Foundation released Music by Black Composers (MBC) Violin Volume I, the first in a series of pedagogical books of music exclusively by global Black classical composers, as well the MBC Coloring Book of Black Composers.

She performs on the "ex-Bazzini ex-Soldat" Joseph Guarnerius del Gesu (Cremona 1742). rachelbartonpine.com

Rachel Barton Pine's residency is sponsored in part by an Impact Project Grant from Sigma Alpha Iota Philanthropies.

TEXTS

by Walt Whitman (1819 - 1892)

By the Bivouac's Fitful Flame

By the bivouac's fitful flame,
A procession winding around me, solemn and sweet and slow - but first I note,
The tents of the sleeping army, the fields' and woods' dim outline,
The darkness lit by spots of kindled fire, the silence,
Like a phantom far or near an occasional figure moving,
The shrubs and trees, (as I lift my eyes they seem to be stealthily watching me,)
While wind in procession thoughts, O tender and wondrous thoughts,
Of life and death, of home and the past and loved, and of those that are far away;
A solemn and slow procession there as I sit on the ground,
By the bivouac's fitful flame.

Beat! Beat! Drums!

Beat! beat! drums! - blow! bugles! blow!
Through the windows - through doors - burst like a ruthless force,
Into the solemn church, and scatter the congregation,
Into the school where the scholar is studying;
Leave not the bridegroom quiet - no happiness must he have now with his bride,
Nor the peaceful farmer any peace, ploughing his field or gathering his grain,
So fierce you whirr and pound, you drums - so shrill you bugles blow.

Beat! beat! drums! - blow! bugles! blow!
Over the traffic of cities - over the rumble of wheels in the streets;
Are beds prepared for sleepers at night in the houses?
No sleepers must sleep in those beds --
No bargainers bargain by day - no brokers or speculators - would they continue?
Would the talkers be talking? would the singer attempt to sing?
Would the lawyer rise in the court to state his case before the judge?
Then rattle quicker, heavier drums -- you bugles wilder blow.

Beat! beat! drums! - blow! bugles! blow!
Make no parley - stop for no expostulation,
Mind not the timid - mind not the weeper or prayer,
Mind not the old man beseeching the young man,
Let not the child's voice be heard, nor the mother's entreaties,
Make even the trestles to shake the dead where they lie awaiting the hearses,
So strong you thump O terrible drums - so loud you bugles blow.

Look Down, Fair Moon

Look down, fair moon and bathe this scene,
Pour softly down night's nimbus floods, on faces ghastly, swollen, purple;
On the dead, on their backs, with their arms toss'd wide,
Pour down your unstinted nimbus, sacred moon.

Reconciliation

Word over all, beautiful as the sky!
Beautiful that war, and all its deeds of carnage,
must in time be utterly lost;
That the hands of the sisters Death and Night,
incessantly softly wash again, and ever again, this soil'd world:
For my enemy is dead -- a man divine as myself is dead;
I look where he lies, white-faced and still, in the coffin -- I draw near;
I bend down, and touch lightly with my lips the white face in the coffin
